Nashua and Hikvision: Setting the standard

Simplicity, quality and benefit – this is what we look for when introducing new lines of business and brands into the Nashua group. It is what underpins our brand promise of putting our customers first – as well as saving them time and money.

Over the past 40 years, our business has evolved with the market and its needs in order to ensure that we are consistently in a position to support and add value, as well as offer our customers integrated solutions for every aspect of their business and office environment. Year-on-year our lines of business expand in order to cover all areas and needs within the business environment ensuring that we can offer our new and existing customers total business support.

The partnering with Sensor Security in 2016 is one such move. Sensor Security are the leading importers and distributors of Hikvision surveillance and access control products in Southern Africa, and, are renowned for their high quality product set, expertise, and ability to deliver complete end-to-end surveillance solutions.

Solutions & Benefits

Surveillance equipment and systems have redefined security and the protection of homes and businesses. And, the latest advances in security cameras and surveillance systems have elevated levels of security monitoring, management and enforcement and have helped thwart the activities of even the most sophisticated and experienced thieves and criminals.

The range and options of surveillance solutions developed by Sensor and Nashua mean that no matter the size, existing infrastructure, or budget, there is a suitable option for your premises.

Solutions are fully inclusive – Digital Video Recorders (DVR's), cameras, monitors and all accessories have been built into each of the 6 solutions available. Whether it's digital or analogue, indoor monitoring, or your external business premises, we have the full solution.
